Welcome to the 2018 Los Feliz Ledger School Guide. This annual primer for neighborhood parents is compiled using information from schools, their websites and LAUSD.net. The list consists of elementary and secondary schools in Los Feliz, Silver Lake, Eagle Rock, Echo Park, Pasadena, Glendale, and surrounding neighborhoods. Included are a diverse array of public, charter, magnet, private, and parochial schools serving grades K-12. All tuitions listed for private schools are for the current (2018-19) academic year.

Parents interested in Magnet Schools, Public School Choice and other Los Angeles Unified School District (LAUSD) program options should visit echoices.lausd.net for more information about these schools and their application processes.

We make an effort to address a wide variety of interests and socio-economic groups in our annual guide. If you feel we have overlooked a gem of a school, feel free to reach out. As a part of the Los Feliz and larger Los Angeles community, we are proud of all our local educators and students.

Walden School was founded in 1970 as a small non-profit elementary school with a Montessori base, becoming accredited by the California Association of Independent Schools six years later. In the late 1980s, parents together purchased the property where Walden’s South Building stands today and the school has since expanded to over 200 students. Today’s campus includes an art studio, science and tech labs, a 4,900-volume library, community rooms, and renovated outdoor play spaces. Walden’s philosophy is to teach students at their own pace and learning style. Most classrooms are multi-age and every classroom has a “buddy class” so younger and older children can interact throughout the year.
